African Flower Square Diagram

Tutorial:

Round 1: Begin by creating a magic ring, then work 2 double crochets, chain 1 eight times inside the ring, resulting in 8 double crochet-2 groups and a total of 16 double crochets. Alternatively, you can opt for double crochet-2-together stitches instead of the double crochet-2 groups.

Round 1

Round 2: Introduce a new color and work 3 double crochets, chain 1 in each chain-1 space around, totaling 24 double crochets.

Round 2

Round 3: Switch to another new color and work 2 double crochets, chain 2, 2 double crochets in every chain-1 space, creating a total of 8 shell structures.

Round 3

Round 4: Work 7 double crochets in every chain-2 space around, resulting in 56 double crochets with no chain spaces. Consider using the same color for both the 3rd and 4th rounds for an aesthetically pleasing motif.

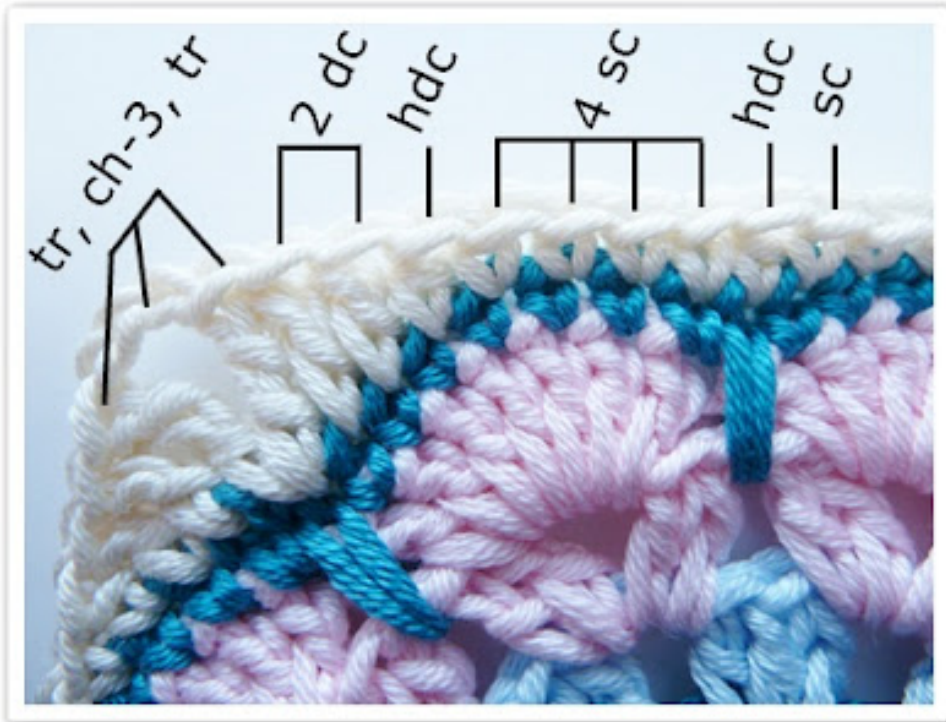

Round 4

Round 5: With a different color, work single crochets in every double crochet around, inserting spike single crochets between the shells of the 3rd round. To achieve a spike single crochet, insert your hook into the small space between the shells of round 3, pull up a loop to the height of your current working round, yarn over, and pull through the two loops on your hook.

Round 5

Round 6: Transition into squaring the flower by joining your new color with a standing half-double crochet (or chain 2) in any spike single crochet. Proceed to work single crochets into the next 4 single crochets, 1 half-double crochet into the next single crochet, double crochets into the next 2 single crochets, (1 treble crochet, chain 3, 1 treble crochet) into the next spike single crochet, double crochets into the next 2 single crochets, 1 half-double crochet into the next single crochet, single crochets into the next 4 single crochets, 1 half-double crochet into the next spike single crochet and repeat around, excluding the last half-double crochet, until you complete the round.

Round 6

Round 7: Work double crochets in every stitch around, including 2 double crochets, chain 2, 2 double crochets in the corner spaces of the previous round. Fasten off, weave in the ends, and your captivating African Flower Square is complete!
